AUSTRALIAN BRED ROSE OF THE MONTH

Minnie Watson

Bred for Australian Conditions

September 2018

an initiative of AusrosePromotions

Minnie Watson was bred by Richard (Dick) Watson of Warrane, Tasmania in 1965. The rose is most unusual as the seedling was the result of a self-pollinated seed of Dickinson's Flame. A compact bush with glossy foliage, salmon semi-double blooms with a lighter reverse that are slightly fragrant. In 1982 Australian Rosarians were bestowed a great honour when a set of four stamps came out depicting Australian bred roses. Minnie Watson(65c) was one the four stamps chosen for the stamps along with Marjorie Atherton (27c), Imp (40c), and Satellite (75c). The rose varieties were selected in consultation with the National Rose Society of Australia. Minnie Watson was named after the breeder's mother
