A hybrid tea, Megan Louise was bred by notable Australian Rose Breeder Eric Welsh and was named after his eldest daughter.

The rose was introduced in 1981 and is a repeat-flowering bush bearing ovoid buds that open to silvery pink, exhibition-style, high centred blooms with deeper carmine pink on the petal edges. There is an intense fragrance. Foliage is tough and is matt green on a short, bushy shrub.

A generous man Eric made a donation to the National Rose Society of Australia for each bush sold.
